Missing children Guidelines

A child going missing can be extremely traumatic – for adults and children. However, if everyone is aware of some simple pre-defined guidelines, panic levels can be minimised, and more critically, the missing child can, hopefully, be found in an organised and efficient way. remember most children are found within a few minutes of their disappearance.

If a child goes missing, the following guidelines have been devised to clarify the actions to take:

1 Ensure other children in your care are looked after appropriately allocate appropriate coaches/volunteers, stop all activities and gather children in to one place to have snacks/drinks while you organise a search for the child concerned.

Carry out an initial search if you feel they may be located in a particular area. If you cannot locate them there take the following actions.

2 Inform the child's parents, if they are present at the event, or nominate an appropriate person to telephone them and advise of the concern. Reassure them you are doing all you can to locate their child. Remember the child may contact the parents directly so this action is very important

3 Organise all available responsible adults by areas to be searched. It is best to take a short time to organise the search properly so that all places are searched fully

4 Send searchers immediately to any exits to ensure the child has not left, and to any obvious potential danger spots such as nearby lakes or rivers.

5 Search the area in which the child has gone missing including changing rooms, toilets, public and private areas and the club's grounds

6 Request all those searching to report back to a nominated adult at a specific point

7 This nominated person should remain at this reference point and make a note of events, including a detailed physical description of the child. This should include approximate height, build, hair and eye colour as well as the clothing the child was wearing and where and when they were last seen. All this will be required by the police. If the search is unsuccessful, you should then contact the police

8 A report should go to the police no later than 20 minutes after the child's disappearance is noted, even if the search is not complete

9 If the police recommend further action before they get involved, follow their guidance

10 If the police act upon the concern, always be guided by them in any further actions to take.

11 At any stage when the child is located, ensure you inform all adults involved including the parents, searchers and the police if, by then, they are involved

12 All missing child incidents MUST BE notified at the very earliest opportunity to the County Safeguarding Officer, who must notify the ECB Safeguarding Team
